Wayfarer Travels — Flight Search & Travel Packages | Last updated: 1 September 2026

1. Overview

Wayfarer Travels offers optional travel insurance that can be added during flight search checkout or as part of a travel package. Travel insurance is underwritten by our third-party insurance partner, not by us directly; we facilitate enrollment and provide the certificate of insurance after purchase. This guide summarizes what is typically covered so our chatbot and support team can answer common questions — always refer to the full policy wording issued at purchase for binding coverage terms.

2. Why Consider Travel Insurance

- Protects against financial loss from trip cancellations or interruptions due to covered reasons (illness, injury, family emergency, and more).
- Covers emergency medical expenses and, on higher-tier plans, medical evacuation while traveling internationally.
- Reimburses costs from lost, delayed, or damaged baggage.
- Some destinations (notably most Schengen Area countries) require proof of travel medical insurance as a condition of entry.

3. Plan Tiers

Plan	Trip Cancellation	Emergency Medical	Baggage Coverage	Typical Cost
Basic	Up to trip cost	Up to $25,000	Up to $500	~3–4% of trip cost
Standard	Up to trip cost	Up to $100,000	Up to $1,500	~5–6% of trip cost
Premium	Up to 150% of trip cost	Up to $500,000 + evacuation	Up to $3,000	~7–9% of trip cost

4. What Is Typically Covered

- Trip cancellation or interruption due to covered reasons such as sudden illness, injury, or death of the traveler or a close family member.
- Emergency medical treatment and hospitalization abroad, subject to plan limits.
- Emergency medical evacuation or repatriation on Standard and Premium plans.
- Delayed, lost, or damaged checked baggage, subject to itemized claim limits.
- Trip delay reimbursement for reasonable expenses (meals, accommodation) after a covered delay threshold, typically 6–12 hours.
- Missed connection coverage when a covered delay causes you to miss a subsequent flight in your itinerary.

5. What Is Typically Excluded

- Pre-existing medical conditions, unless a waiver is purchased within the eligibility window (usually within 14–21 days of initial trip payment).
- Travel to destinations under an active government travel advisory against travel, in some cases.
- Injuries sustained while under the influence of alcohol or drugs, or during extreme/adventure sports not specifically covered.
- Cancellations due to a simple change of mind, not tied to a covered reason.
- Claims arising from failure to obtain required visas, vaccinations, or travel documents.
- Losses already reimbursed through the airline, hotel, or our Refund Policy (insurance does not duplicate refunds already received).

6. How to Add Insurance to a Booking

- During flight search checkout, select "Add Travel Insurance" before completing payment.
- For travel packages, insurance can be added on the package details page or during checkout as an add-on.
- Ask the chatbot: "Add travel insurance to my trip" and it will guide you through available plans.
- Insurance must generally be purchased at the time of booking or shortly after (within the eligibility window) to include cancellation coverage for the full trip cost.

7. Filing a Claim

Claims are filed directly with our insurance partner using the claim portal link included in your policy certificate email. You will typically need your policy number, proof of the covered event (e.g., a doctor's note, police report, or airline delay confirmation), and original receipts for expenses claimed. Claims should generally be filed within 30–90 days of the covered event, depending on the plan; check your certificate for the exact deadline.

8. Insurance vs. Our Cancellation & Refund Policies

Travel insurance is separate from our Cancellation and Refund Policies. Our policies determine what portion of your booking is refundable when you cancel voluntarily; travel insurance can reimburse amounts that are not refundable under those policies, but only for covered reasons (such as illness) — not for cancelling simply because your plans changed.

9. Refunding an Insurance Premium

Insurance premiums are generally non-refundable once the policy is issued, in line with our Refund Policy. Some insurance partners offer a short "free look" period (commonly 10–15 days from purchase, provided you have not yet traveled or filed a claim) during which the premium can be refunded if you cancel the policy — check your certificate for eligibility.

10. Questions?

Ask our chatbot about plan differences, what a specific plan covers for your destination, or how to start a claim, or contact support for help with an existing policy.
